CONFESSION RUMORED IN NAVAL STORES CASE

Attorney General Orders Indictment Against George M. Boardman Not-Processed.

Savannah, Ga., May 19.—For some time there have been rumors in Savannah that one of the defendants in the federal court case against the American Naval Stores company officials had made a confession and would be used as a witness by the government when the case is heard again. It developed this morning that the indictment against George M. Boardman, the Jacksonville representative of the alleged trust, had been ordered not-processed by the attorney general.

The order to this effect is now a part of the record of the case. District Attorney Boardman stated that the ends of justice could best be met by not-processing the case against Mr. Boardman, but he declined to say whether he will use him as a witness on Monday, when the case comes up for trial.

Eighty Years of Faithful Service to the American Public

The Mitchell-Lewis Motor Company has the enviable record of eighty years of faithful service to the American public. Bear this fact in mind when you get ready to buy a car, for it operates as insurance of quality.

No thoughtful business man ever buys a car, or a house, or a factory, without looking into the character of the men who make it. This rule of trade is more imperative in the purchase of an automobile than almost anything else you can name.

Eighty years of faithful service is an asset of no uncertain value. This company held the respect of the early settlers of the western country because of absolutely honest merchandise in the shape of farm wagons. It established its standing before automobiles were known. When it embarked in the automobile business, it clung to the policy that made its farm wagon business famous. And its automobiles are famous, for the same satisfying reason.

You've got something behind you when you buy. Our standing and prestige constitute a factor of safety. Add to this the remarkably fine character of the Mitchell Models and your purchase is as solid as the Rock of Gibraltar. Ask any farmer in America what he thinks of the old Mitchell-Lewis Motor Company. Ask any one of thirty thousand Mitchell automobile owners what he thinks of the Mitchell-Lewis Motor Company. Their reputation and reliability will prove the point.

The Mitchell Models for 1914:

The Mitchell Little Six—fifty horse-power—12-inch wheel base—36-47-inch tires—five-passenger capacity $1,895

The Mitchell Big Six—sixty horse-power—14-inch wheel base—37-47-inch tires—seven-passenger capacity $2,350

The Mitchell Four—forty horse-power—four cylinders—36-47-inch tires—five-passenger capacity $1,595

Equipment of all the Mitchell Models included in the List Prices Here Given: Electric self-starter and generator—electric lights—electric horn—electric magnetic coil—electric heater—wind-up top and dust cover—lifty side-swinging side door—quick-action rear view mirror—removable top with one extra—couple extra tire carriers—Belt-hold holder—hollow plate bracket—pump and complete set of tools.

Mrs. Alice Stackpole Is Awarded Alimony Of $100 by Pendleton

Judge John T. Pendleton, Tuesday, awarded alimony of $100 a month to Mrs. Alice Stackpole, wife of the late ex-resident of the Georgian Terrace and familiar figure in society, who died here last week. Mrs. Stackpole is connected in an executive position with the Georgia Carolina Insurance company. He is accused by Mrs. Stackpole of squandering her fortune—$20,000 of which she alleged had been borrowed by Stackpole from her mother.

She asserted that her husband had contributed to her support for the past two years. She declared her earning capacity to be $2,000 annually, and pleaded for alimony of $100 monthly on the ground that this amount was essential to her proper support.

Mrs. Stackpole's attorney, Young H. Pease, said Tuesday afternoon that he had not determined whether or not to bring divorce proceedings and make alimony permanent.

The Stackpoles were married in November, 1906. Mrs. Stackpole avers that she was abandoned in May, 1912, and declared that at the time of her marriage she possessed $25,000, which was in her mother's hands. Stackpole, she alleges, subsequently borrowed $17,000 of the amount, which he squandered.

Mrs. Stackpole now resides with her mother in Potomac, Long Island, New York.

CHARES A. COOK ILL; HE WAS NOT INJURED

After causing his father and mother considerable anxiety for several hours throughout Monday night, the whereabouts of Charles A. Cook, age 36, who mysteriously disappeared late Monday morning by a telephone message received by his father, Phil Cook, secretary of the state of Georgia, at his home on East Linden

Tuesday morning his daughter-in-law, telephone 1111, advised that he was sick at 721 Courtland street as the result of an acute attack of indigestion.

While returning to his home at 311 Courtland street, late Monday afternoon, Charles Cook was struck with the attack in front of the Pike club. He fell to the ground. Those who came to his aid carried him into a room at the hotel where he remained over night under medical care.

He fell to the ground, an automobile passed by, and some one, who father that he had been hurt in an automobile accident.

Mr. Cook was not carried home because he was unable to give his address. Later he revived enough to give it, and his wife was notified, and she came and spent the night by his bedside. He is reported as being much better now.

OUTLOOK FOR CROPS IS NOT FLATTERING

Commissioner of Agriculture James D. Price will issue this week a bulletin on the crop conditions of the entire state for which report he has been gathering data during the last several weeks.

Price reports that, in an afraid will not show a very flattering outlook for the crop conditions of the state, this being the cold and wet weather that has prevailed for some time. It is for the economic good of the state that it is hoped that the weather will be more favorable at once. A false expectation of a bumper crop would lead only to lowering in prices for farm products and extravagance which would be felt by the farmers next fall.

Washington Seminary Attracts Large Crowd To Closing Exercises

The distinguishing honor of the commencement exercises of the Washington seminary at the Atlanta theater last night went to Miss Ellen Spiggle, who won the D. A. R. medal, which is offered by the Atlanta chapter in honor of Mrs. Alice R. Chandler, for many years principal of the seminary.

The medal was awarded for the best essay written by a member of the senior class, the essay which won the medal was a masterly paper on Deborah Hamlin, revolutionary heroine.

The medal was presented by Mrs. Frances R. Whitehead, of the Atlanta chapter, D. A. R.

Miss Spiggle has ranked as one of the most brilliant students of the seminary, and the award of the medal to her seemed to meet entirely with the popular approval of the members of her class.

Honorable mention and ribbon badges were awarded to the following contestants for the D. A. R. medal: Misses Zoe Jackson, Milton Duncan and May Creighton.

One of the largest crowds that has ever attended the commencement of the Washington seminary was present at the exercises of the thirty-sixth annual commencement at the Atlanta theater last night.

Dr. W. L. Pickard, of Savannah, delivered a brilliant address to the senior class, his subject being "Deathless Faith—Faithless Crowns."

Under the direction of Mrs. John W. Hart the D. A. R. society, which the seminary rendered a beautiful musical program, closed with the presentation of the diplomas by L. D. Scott, president of the school to the members of the senior class, who were as follows:

Advanced English Course, Elizabeth Anderson, Theodosia Andrews, Ruth Bolk, Vera Buchanan, Alice Gigg, Elizabeth Gray, Frances Green, Edwina Harper, Laurence Hodge, Bess Hunter, Ruth Morris, Frances Springer, Ellen Spiggle, Florine Stephens, Margaret Smith, Willie Port Williams, Martha Whitner.

2 CRITICALLY INJURED IN FREE-FOR-ALL FIGHT

Deaths Are Narrowly Averted After Small Riot at Tallapoosa Church.

Buchanan, Ga., May 19.—(Special.)—In a rough and tumble fight at Tallapoosa church, 3 miles north of Buchanan, Sunday, six men and boys were injured, two of whom are still in a very serious condition.

It seems that liquor was the main cause of the fight. John McDonald, a young man about 19 years of age, it is said, was the principal figure in the mix-up. The real cause of the fight, except the liquor feature, if there was any other cause, has been kept hidden.

Several warrants have been sworn out for the principal actors in the row.

RIVERSIDE BLANKED

Milledgeville, Ga., May 19.—(Special.) Maddox's Georgia Military college boys put it all over Riverside in the second game of the series, shutting them out by the score of 7 to 0. Riverside never having a shadow of a chance to score.

Sanders, G. M. C.'s southpaw, literally fed Anderson's bunch out of his hand. He pitched a clean, no-hit game, striking out nine. He is the toast of Millersville, as no team has scored a tively.

One of the most interesting matches tomorrow will be that between H. H. Hilton, British amateur champion, and Robert Harris, Acton, England, runner-up to Hilton for the championship last year.

Locust Grove made several costly errors, netting the visitors several scores. With the stick work handled by home boys it was impossible to lose, with long, clean drives coming with the bases full. Sims and Barentine hit strong for Locust Grove.

Lowry featured for Stone Mountain. The visitors' hits were scattered and weak. This closes the season, with Locust Grove having won the majority of their schedule games.

The field as yet presents a very bar-ren appearance as far as action is concerned. Little effort is being made in any section of the state and contiguous territory, notwithstanding the fact that the prizes offered by The Constitution aggregate a greater value by far than any other contest ever announced in this section of the country. Taking this into consideration, with the fact that every energetic candidate who enters the contest must receive one of the listed prizes or a cash prize according to the rules and conditions of this contest, the situation to say the least is somewhat unprecedented.

Requires No Investment.
The opportunity for wide-awake men and women who live in Georgia and contiguous territory to profit very greatly is absolutely without parallel today. You are not required to do anything difficult or disagreeable. You need "back capital."

LIFE OF NEWEST RULER THREATENED BY REBELS

Durazzo, Albania, May 19.—A mixed force of marines from the international fleet was landed here today

The position of the prince has been threatened by the increasing hostility between Essad Pasha, formerly Turkish commander at Scutari, and the other members of the Albanian ministry.

conveyed with the members of his family to the Austrian warship. The position of the Albanian warship was threatened by the increasing hostility of the Turkish fleet. The Turkish fleet commander at Scutari and members of the Albanian ministry of war were also conveyed with the members of his family on board an Austrian warship. The Albanian warship was to join the new Albanian principality created by the European powers at the conclusion of the Balkan wars.

Life of Ruler Endangered.

Vienna, May 19.—A serious situation has arisen in Albania. The life of the ruler, of the new ruler, Prince William, has been endangered. According to Diranrass, a dispatch from the Albanian capital, the ruler, Essad Pasha had an audience with his ministers and announced his resignation as governor. Essad Pasha had been governor of Albania since 1908 and 5,000 in Durazzo. His resignation was announced in his capital, Durazzo, and the first shot against the ruler was fired. The prince appealed to the commanding general of the Austrian warship, who landed troops and Austrian warships on machine guns in front of Essad Pasha's residence. The prince then refused to be allowed to go to the capital, Durazzo, and he refused to be arrested and taken to the capital.

According to other reports, Prince William a fortnight ago discovered as ret plans drawn up by Essad Pasha, the Albanian ruler, and his bodyguard, Kessa Pasha, who was a close-upon the Albanian gendarmerie, commander of the Albanian army, and Essad Pasha's residence, arrested him and took him over to the Austrian commander. Five hundred men from the Austrian army were guarding the prince's palace.

NOTHING IN CHARGES DECLARES JOHN BURKE

New Orleans, May 15.—John Burke, formerly connected with the commissary department of the Panama canal zone, has been cleared of all charges by a federal grand jury in New York. Burke, 37, was indicted for accepting gratuities in connection with his work. He arrived in New Orleans early today en route to New York, after making a general denial of the charges against him. He said he was "satisfied."

"I expect to proceed to New York today to answer to the charges," he said. "I have no quarrel with the government on the isthmus and do not expect to have any more to do with it."

nothing in the charges against me."

Don't Ask Any Other Store Where You Can Buy a Gossard Front Lace Corset—

WOMEN come here repeatedly and tell us that they have asked for Gossard corsets elsewhere, only to be informed that Gossard corsets were not to be had in town.
In several other well authenticated instances customers have been sold front lace corsets as "Gossards under another name."
Gossard corsets are not made under any name but Gossard's. They do not have to masquerade—they sell on their merits; in fact, until recently the factory in front of the store had a sign that read "Gossard's Corsets." The work is warranted; changes are nominal; the service is open to the public.

50c Stockings 39c

—Stockings are made of silk with choice of sheer, light or medium weight.
—Black, white or tan. All sizes, 39c.

Pullman Co. Played Big Part In Success of Shrine Week

Two million dollars in equipment and 700 employees, getting to work expert assistance, went here to help Superintendent W. C. Hart.

That was the contribution of the Pullman Palace Car Co. to the success of Atlanta's shrine week. And the little Napoleon who engineered the shrine week, the Pullman Palace Car Co. was the small but mighty force behind the success of the Pullman Palace Car Co.

Three bicycle officers engaged in a lively chase for a traveling blind tiger early Tuesday morning in the network of rear streets between Edgewood and Auburn avenues.

The chase lasted for half an hour, until finally the blind tiger, with a wagon load of whisky, was chased up a blind alley, where he was cornered by the officers, making good his escape through a scuttling hole.

Sergeant Maddox, Officers Turner and Duncan drove the wagon into the blind alley, where the tiger was cornered. Three barrels of half-pint bottles of blind tiger whisky were discovered, containing a total of about 300 half-pint bottles. There was also a half barrel of quart bottles of the whisky, numbering about 160.

Tax Assessors Can Compel Bankers to Show Detail Deposits
According to a ruling made Tuesday by Judge John C.
